

Corporate Lawyering in Asia

A Talk with Robert Chu

Mr. Chu, a U.S. lawyer who has led the Asian corporate practices of one of the most elite Wall Street law firms, will discuss what pursuing a corporate legal career in Asia involves and what opportunities there may be for Canadian law students.

Robert Chu

Partner, Sullivan and Cromwell

Robert Chu is a partner resident in Sullivan & Cromwell's Melbourne office, and heads the Firm's Australia practice. Mr. Chu formerly headed the firm's Beijing office. He joined Sullivan & Cromwell in 1999 after teaching contracts and international law at Rutgers Law School.

Having been resident in S&C's New York, Hong Kong, Beijing and Melbourne offices, Mr. Chu has worked on a wide array of mergers, acquisitions and securities offerings, involving companies in the Asia-Pacific region, the Americas, Europe and the Middle East. Mr. Chu has advised clients ranging from major Chinese state-owned enterprises such as Bank of China, China Investment Corporation and China Telecom as well as Chinese private enterprises such as Sohu, KongZhong and Ping An Insurance; to BHP Billiton, National Australia Bank, and Telstra in Australia; to AB Inbev, Dubai Ports, Thomson and Goldman Sachs worldwide.

Robert Chu has been recognized as a leading lawyer by numerous legal publications including Chambers Global, Chambers Asia, Best Lawyers: Australia, and China Law & Practice.

Light lunch will be served. Please RSVP to cals@allard.ubc.ca

CENTRE FOR ASIAN LEGAL STUDIES

November

21

Monday

12:00pm –
1:30 pm

ALLARD HALL
ROOM 121

ALLARD
SCHOOL OF LAW